

ModSpace® Selects Software Solutions Rapport and ProFinia From International Decision Systems

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., August 13, 2007--International Decision Systems, Inc. announced that Modular Space Corporation (ModSpace) has selected Rapport and ProFinia, the leading asset management solutions for equipment leasing and finance companies.

Charles Paquin, president and chief executive officer of ModSpace, views the selection of International Decision Systems as the solution provider as a significant strategic advantage for both ModSpace and its customers. “ModSpace realized it needed a new asset management and operating system. Our priorities were simple. We needed robust capability, greater efficiency, and real-time data availability,” said Paquin.

ModSpace evaluated several potential equipment finance solution providers but eventually selected International Decision Systems, the author of Rapport and ProFinia.

“We demanded certain functionality and at the end of the day, the strength, stability, and the experience of IDS was a deciding factor,” said Paquin. “We know that when our business triples in size, or we enter new markets, we will be well-supported.”

Ron Dolan, International Decision Systems’ global vice president of Sales, Marketing & Product Marketing stated, “The relationship that we have formed with ModSpace is very strategic and indicative of the strength of our vertical solutions and our commitment to our partners in the equipment finance industry. The ability to dynamically configure an ever-changing business environment through the use of Rapport and ProFinia allows ModSpace the ability to deliver market leading solutions to their customers.”

Todd Davis, International Decision Systems’ chief executive officer, states. “This announcement helps to illustrate the success that comes from all of our long term relationships and our dedication to the manufacturing and finance industry. We will continue to work with our strategic partners to bring innovative best practices, which drive efficiency and integrity to all facets of their organizations.”
