

International Decision Systems® Appoints Steve Pittman As Vice President of Sales

Minneapolis, MN (January 12, 2010) -- International Decision Systems® (“IDS”) today announced the appointment of Steve Pittman as Vice President of Sales for the corporation. In this role, Mr. Pittman will report to CEO Todd Davis and lead new business development, strategic accounts and partner programs for IDS.

“We are thrilled to have Steve join our executive team,” said Todd Davis, CEO of IDS. “He brings a tremendous track record of successfully leading application sales teams which will enable us to continue to globally expand the business.”

Mr. Pittman brings to IDS over 15 years of enterprise software sales and sales management experience in addition to ten years in consulting and application development. His previous experience includes Director of Sales, Eastern Region for GXS, Inc, a leading B2B e-commerce and integration services provider and Senior Account Executive with SAP America where he was in the President’s Club and in the top 2% of Account Executives. Mr. Pittman also held the role of Regional Vice President for PeopleSoft, leading a team of sales representatives and achieving the top region in CRM/Supply Chain Management sales for two quarters. Previous experience also includes Regional Manager positions for Siebel Systems and Oracle Corporation. Mr. Pittman holds a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration from Mississippi State University.

“IDS is clearly the number one leader in equipment finance software with unparalleled product investment and over 250 customers,” added Pittman. “I am excited to be leading a sales team that can build and expand on this proven success.”
