

Streamline All Your Loan Processing Steps to Gain Operating Accuracy, Efficiency and Control

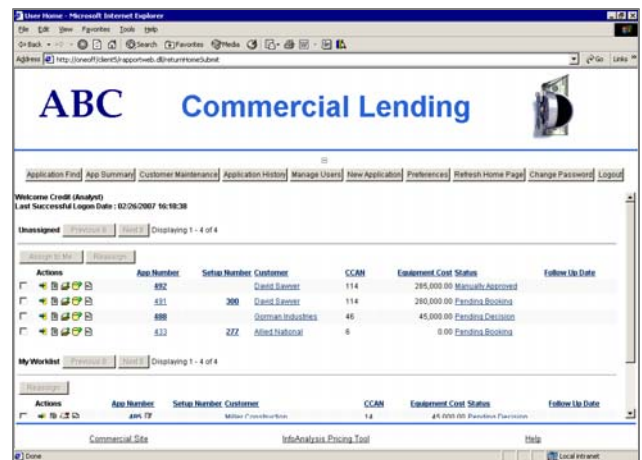

Add Speed, Control and Productivity

Does your current method for processing new loans require a lot of running around the office? Could you improve customer service and relieve stress if your people had all the information you need to track in a single Web-enabled system? Could you benefit from a tool that enables you to create more dependable, coordinated workflows?

With Rapport® as your front end origination solution, you can:

- Integrate all your current systems, including your document generation system, to speed processing, and dramatically increase your capacity without adding staff.
- Rapidly gather all critical information through fast, reliable on-line connections to your specialized internal systems, as well as online external resources.
- Define your own process stages, and automate a full range of currently time consuming, manual steps, improving internal communication and productivity.
- Improve overall operating efficiency through better systems integration and staff coordination.

Gain Continuous Visibility and Control over All Your Transactions

Rapport is the comprehensive loan processing solution that synchronizes your operations – and enables you to see the detailed, current status of any pending loan transaction, at any time. With this system integrated seamlessly to the loan accounting system of your choice, you ensure full data integrity and alignment throughout your business.

- Eliminate errors by utilizing a single point of entry for each piece of data.
- Simplify compliance by increasing the reliability of your data.
- Reduce risk by making more, higher-quality data and information available to all decision-makers.
- Renew loans seamlessly by easily accessing data stored in Rapport from the original loan application.
