

Take advantage of profitable opportunities in bundled financing.

Now your InfoLease system can handle this competitive leasing product with the flexibility to bundle multiple components into your rental.

Have you wanted to offer a full service bundled financing product, but hesitated because of the accounting and tracking complexities? If your financing business includes opportunities to bundle equipment, service contracts, maintenance contracts fee, income, even property tax escrows, into a single full-service rental, now you can handle that type of product seamlessly on InfoLease.

With the new InfoLease Full Service Leasing module, you can:

- Make an entire solution, including the use of the equipment, simple for your lessees
- Offer a variety of bundled financial components in a single contract, single rental and single payment lease product
- Rest assured that InfoLease can handle the complexity of the accounting automatically.

Gain the control to automatically track each component accurately

Most leasing systems were not constructed to bundle a variety of different types of charges into a single rental, and, until now, could not do so and still accurately and automatically ensure allocation to all of the appropriate general ledger categories. That's all changed. With the Full Service Leasing module, you can set up and maintain these types of agreements painlessly, which means you can grow this type of business efficiently, productively, and profitably on InfoLease. You can reduce the cost of handling full service leases by:

- Setting up all of the service components in advance so that they are available any time a new contract is booked.
- Setting up a single item for each component of the contract, rather than creating multiple blended income and miscellaneous billable items.
- Reducing manual payment application by allowing payments to automatically prorate to the components.
- Handling accounting and general ledger classification automatically, based on the way you set up each contract.
- Reporting on the detail you need on full service contracts automatically, through new reports included with the module.
