Verizon Credit Inc. Goes Live with Integrated Solution for Equipment and Services Financing from International Decision Systems

Rapport® and ProFinia™ will enable Verizon to streamline financing options for business customers who choose to finance their communications equipment and services.

MINNEAPOLIS, MN, May 30th, 2008 – Customers of Verizon Credit, Inc., will benefit from improved efficiencies and functionality using advanced software from International Decision Systems (IDS).

IDS' Rapport and ProFinia software will allow Verizon Credit to more effectively and efficiently provide business customers with a full array of financing options for their communications equipment and services. Verizon Credit works side by side with Verizon Business and Verizon Telecom to provide customers with innovative financing options to help them manage cash flow and reduce the risk of technology obsolescence.

"These new software platforms will enable Verizon Credit to better serve its customers by enhancing our financing operations," said Paul Repp, President and Chief Executive Officer of Verizon Credit Inc. "We will have even greater ability to provide financing options that allow our customers to tap the business power of communications."

Verizon Credit migrated from IDS' InfoLease, the market-leading portfolio management solution .
